BROOKLYN BUSINESS MEN HAVE JOLLY GOOD TIME AT SMOKER

The smoker given by the Brooklyn Business Chamber last Monday night, proved one of the biggest successes of the season. The Old Fellows hall was fairly filled with happy and enthusiastic Brooklyn men.

After a short business session, which on account of the smoker, only lasted about 20 minutes, those in attendance were entertained by the Roof family with a succession of jigs. Various kinds of jigs were danced by this family of jiggers. Anyone who has never seen them has missed something.

Then followed the card games. The favorite games were played. The

INDEPENDENCE NEWS

Junior-Senior News

George Broughton, a senior and John Lisy, were cutting logs during the vacation. They took out 25 pounds of honey from one Red Oak.

The girls of the Junior-Senior class exchanged Christmas presents, the value of which was not to be more than a dime.

The boys and girls of the junior-senior class spent a number of afternoons and evenings skating on the numerous ponds.

Community News

The Farmer's Institute held at Independence, Dec. 31 and Jan. 1, was well attended. The exhibits at the school house, included many chickens, rabbits and other pet animals. The lectures by H. P. Miller on "Live Stock" were very interesting and instructive. Mr. Montgomery of O. S. U. gave an interesting talk on "Seeds and Vegetables."

The agent for the "Deleo Electric Light Co." furnished electric lights for the town hall both evenings.

New Year's night an entertainment was given by Brooklyn Heights and Independence schools. Several, who were to take part were absent and as a result the program began to drag. At this point, W. Troyan was announced as the next number on the program and he had the audience in an uproar with his jokes on prohibition, the proposed new school house, the election of village officials and local happenings of the year. His easy spinning ropes and jokes won the hearty applause of all present.

The next number on the lecture course will be given Tuesday evening, January 13, by Mr. and Mrs. McCord at the Independence town hall at 8:15 P. M.

Walter Hazel is recovering from scarlet fever.

The Board of Education will hold an open meeting for the citizens of the village Monday evening, Jan. 12. They

NAME ENGINEER FOR SANITARY SEWER DISTRICT

R. W. Pratt has been appointed by the County Commissioners as sanitary engineer to survey the conditions and make a report of what is needed in the way of sewers and water in the sanitary sewer districts created south of Brooklyn by the Commissioners last October.

Pratt started work on the project last Wednesday.

Among other things it will be left to Engineer Pratt to state what kind of disposal plants, if any, should be installed, where the reservoir should be located for supplying the district with water and where the main sewer routes should go.

Because of the vast importance of the project the announcement of the appointment of Mr. Pratt is of much importance to the community.

Engineer Pratt will receive the cooperation of the City Engineering department as it is the plan to have the county's sewer plans harmonize with the sewer system the city is planning for the territory north of Brook Park road, the present city limits.

TO HOLD OPERA AT Y THEATER

FINDS HE IS NEIGHBOR TO ARMY PAL HE SEEKS

Joseph Schuler, of Ardmore avenue, and Ralph Langley, of Brooklyn, Mass., saw service together during the war overseas. They became close friends.

Schuler was first to return and before boarding ship for home wrote his address on a piece of paper and handed it to Langley.

Langley lost the piece of paper. He then tried to recall to memory the address and finally decided it was Columbus, O. He then made up his mind he would go to Columbus some day and locate Schuler.

DECLARE SIZE A HANDICAP

Women of Generous Proportions Say Their Fragile Sisters Are Preferred by the Men.

Suzanne looked fearful, and tears do not suit Suzanne. You see, she stands six feet in her silk stockings, wears a seven shoe and a seven glove, and isn't a bit proud of the fact.

My Amazon had had a big disappointment, says a writer in London Answers. Put in plain words, she had allowed just a little more of her interest than was wise to center around a big Dick Harbury, and Suzanne had dreamed dreams. Now had come the news that little fluffy Mabel, a doll-like girl of barely five feet, was wearing Dick's ring.

Said Suzanne: "We big women haven't a chance. A man always falls before the tiny woman. Why do men prefer little women?"

That query set me thinking. Do men prefer little women to girls of the Amazon type? Has size any power when it comes to a question of falling in love?

Undoubtedly women like big men. A

MARSH PLANT GROWS BY LEAPS DESPITE NUMEROUS HANDICAPS

Despite the handicaps the Marsh automobile factory at Ridge road and the Cleveland Belt Line Railway is growing by leaps, and with the present pace kept up for several more weeks the concern will have many of its various factory units completed.

The lack of sufficient electrical current from the Electrical Illuminating company is the greatest handicap the Marsh people are now facing. Factory officials say that the Illuminating Company has been making numerous promises to supply more current but as yet the promises have not materialized. The severe cold has been another handicap.

Start Work on Foundry

Work has been commenced on the erection of a foundry which will be a 100 by 60 foot building, with monitor type roof, and will be used for turning out brass, gray iron and malleable iron parts for Marsh automobiles.

The next unit to be built will be the blacksmith hardening shop for heating and treating such auto parts as gears and forgings. This building will be 60 by 60 feet.

Goes to Auto Show

Secretary W. A. Smith of the company announces that parts for the first Marsh automobile are arriving daily from the old Marsh plant at Brockton, Mass., and that the new car will be ready for exhibition soon. Mr. Smith is now attending the Automobile show in New York.

The lunch and rest rooms for Marsh employees will be in operation at the factory as soon as help can be found to conduct them. Among other help the company is seeking a man and wife to take entire charge of these departments.

Company officials announce that preference will be given to Brooklyn help. Calls are now being sent out for typists, stenographers and electrical construction workers.

400 AT LEAGUE NEW YEAR PARTY

More than 400 people were present at the New Year's party given last Tuesday evening, at the German Protestant Evangelical church, "Viggo's Vaudeville Agency," was the title of the comedy given as entertainment. Those taking part were Albert Conway, Rosella Howe, H. J. Lutz, Paul Winter, Florence Reidel, L. Weller, L. Mielke, Florence Simon, Loretta McNeerney, A. Weller, M. W. Mielke, Harry Thorpe and Mabel Auel. Mrs. W. Price, conducted the comedy.

Just before the cake and ice cream was served Mrs. M. L. String of the Brooklyn Y. W. C. A. spoke, telling of her work here and asking the cooperation of the women and girls.

"We are eager to give help and take suggestions from the women and girls and we feel sure you are willing to help and take suggestions," Mrs. String stated.

Y. W. C. A. secretary Kist also spoke, telling of the work he was planning.

Both Mrs. String and Mr. Kist lauded the work of the Women's Civic League stating that both the Y. M. and Y. W. owed their existence in Brooklyn to the Civic League.

The League announces that it wishes to thank the Ladies Aid of the German church for offering their church and Gas Busch for offering anything in his store that was needed in the party.

BRUNN AND WETZEL BUY MEAT MARKET

Walter J. Braun and Frank Wetzel, both well known in Brooklyn, have purchased the meat market from H. A. Riedhaier at 2337 Broadway road. They will conduct both a wholesale and retail meat business.

Mr. Braun is especially well known in Brooklyn club circles.

Nelson Firsch who assisted in the Riedhaier market will remain with the new concern.

AT EIGHTH REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday morning, Rev. J. H. String will preach in "Our Master's Memorial." It will be the mid-winter communion service. In the evening the subject will be "Prove It." The pastor has organized his class for boys and girls to be introduced in religion. These instructions will continue until Easter and be preparatory to being received into the church. Others may enroll any Monday afternoon. On Wednesday evening, Jan. 14th, The church will hold its annual meeting. The congregation will dine and hear reports of all the activities of the year and elect new officers.

DEER BEG FOR FOOD

Invasions in Yellowstone in Search of Grub.

Animals So Tamed by U. S. Protection They Follow People Around.

Denver.—Deer, which invade kitchens of houses in search of food, and beggar bears, which waylay automobile tourists and pedestrians along the roads, are examples of the extent to which the protection furnished by the government to the wild game within the boundaries of the various national parks has tamed the animals, according to Horace M. Albright, superintendent of Yellowstone National park, and assistant to Stephen M. Mather, director of national parks, who came to Denver recently to attend the meeting of park officials.

"One night shortly before I left, I went to a dance," said Mr. Albright. "I took home a pitcher of cider and a plate of doughnuts. When I reached the house I placed them on a back step, while I unlocked the door. A noise behind me caused me to look around and there was a big mule deer with his nose buried in the pitcher of cider. He followed me into the house for one of the doughnuts, and when I gave it to him, he trotted off."

It is no unusual sight, declared Albright, to see deer entering and leaving a house in Yellowstone. Small children feed them from their hands, and beggar bears, he declared, have come to be one of the biggest attractions of the park.

"They wait beside the road until an auto or party of pedestrians approach, and then get up on their hind legs and extend their front paws for contributions," Albright said.

"The tameness of the animals has its drawbacks as well, because it makes them easy for pot hunters if they happen to stray beyond the park boundaries.

Ants Eat Courthouse.

Constantine, Mich.—Ravenous ants have eaten their way through practically all the baseboards in the cellar of the courthouse at Centerville, St. Joseph county, Sashes and doors have also been destroyed. Workmen are replacing the timber, where possible, with concrete. The ants do not break through varnish and do not frequent the building proper. They are about a quarter of an inch long with black bodies and white heads.

ENGINEER HOFFMAN TO ADDRESS B. P. R. ACTION IS SOUGHT ON SPRING ROAD SCHOOL BUILDING

"I will be there with all my plans." This was the reply City Engineer Hoffman gave to a Brooklyn News representative when asked whether he would be present to explain his sewer plans for Brooklyn at the next meeting of the Brooklyn Parma Royalton Civic Association, next Friday evening in Odd Fellow hall, Pearl and Broadway roads.

As Engineer Hoffman has been working on the plans for sewerage South Brooklyn for many months his address before the B. P. R. association will be of much importance and of vital interest to every resident of the community. The B. P. R. association has been keeping in close touch with the city engineering department and has been affording it every aid possible.

There will be many other things of much importance to come before the meeting next Friday night. Among other things Secretary McDiarmid is endeavoring to get some of the school officials to come to the meeting and tell what has happened to the Spring road school building project. As the result of the B. P. R. activities the school board decided to build a school on Spring road. Now the report is making the rounds that the building of the school is not included in the 1920 building plans of the city school organization.

"We are determined that there shall be a school provided for the rapidly growing section along Spring road and shall not rest until action is taken," says Secretary McDiarmid.

It is expected that the proposition of widening the main highways leading out of Brooklyn will be taken up at the coming meeting. The plan is to widen them beginning at the old city limits and continue the work as far as the county line. It has been one of the ambitions of J. P. Smith, president of the B. P. R., to have every principal highway widened and he and the B. P. R. have been working on the project for several years. The county commissioners will be asked to take up the highway widening project.

The various committees of the B. P. R. have been active during the past few weeks and it is expected they will be ready with reports of vast importance.

The session will be open to all Brooklyn people. "Since improvement matters of great importance are to be discussed it behooves every person interested in Brooklyn's welfare to attending the meeting," says President Smith.

NEW HEAD FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

Hats for Husbands Only.

Marriage in Korea divides the men from the boys in a way that may be convenient, but that sometimes is amusing. No one but a married man can wear the peculiar high-crowned hat that is so characteristic of Korean dress. One day, writes Mr. Roy C. Andrews in the National Geographic Magazine, I noticed a little fellow who wore a hat and had his hair knotted on the top of his head. He was only a child, and I said to the cook, "Is that little boy really married?"

"Do you mean that man?" the cook asked, pointing at the child.

I said, "Yes," and learned that the little fellow, who was only eleven years old, had a wife of ten, to whom he had been legally married. Although they would continue to live with their parents for the next two or three years, the boy was referred to as a "man," and had all the privileges of a full-grown member of the community.

Near the "man" was a fellow of forty-seven, who wore his hair parted in the middle and hanging in a long braid down his back. Because he was unmarried, he could not wear a hat or tie up his hair; no matter what age he reached, he would always be considered to be a boy. The two were photographed side by side, to the great displeasure of the eleven-year-old man.

SAVE

Just how are you feeling about Christmas now that it is all over? Can you look back on the season with only thoughts of joyous retrospection or are you disturbed by anxious thoughts about the debts the yuletide has occasioned?

There can be little doubt that you of the latter class are gradually growing fewer and that Christmas Savings clubs have been a deciding factor in reducing after Christmas debts.

These savings clubs instituted by the banks are thoroughly commendable. They put within the reach of every one the possibility of saving enough to cover Christmas expenses.

One may save as much or as little as he pleases and the period of saving covers the whole of 50 weeks so that the saving is accompanied by no hardship.

But the roots of Christmas-savings clubs reach much deeper than the little sum sufficient to cover Christmas needs.

They demonstrate a truly interesting thing saving is. Through Christmas savings clubs and other forms of savings accounts, men and women have learned how easy it is to lay aside a little for themselves, provided a systematic plan is adopted and a real specific purpose is in view.

Christmas savings clubs are particularly recommended to those who have never started a savings account because they will demonstrate how rapidly unspent money accumulates without even being missed.

They and other savings accounts with safe institutions will not be overlooked by those who have already learned the lesson of saving.

We never miss the water till the well goes dry. Same may be applied to the Bus service out Pearl, State and Broadview roads.

"Prices show upward trend" says head line in a Cleveland Daily. Why not tell us something new?

FEW LEAVE WILLS

Seemingly, Expectation of Death Is Not General.

Man Who Has Only a Small Estate to Leave Is the Most Apt to Think That a Legal Document Is Not Necessary.

There are two reasons why people put off the making of a will. In the first place, as Cicero long ago pointed out, "no one is so old as to think that he may not live a year." If it is the average man, of any age, is sure that he will carry on to see the robins return and to breathe fresh life with the spring; and in summer he knows full well that he is not destined to pass out until he has harvested this year's garden crop. It was so in Cicero's time; it is today. Death is never imminent; we take a day off to attend the funeral of the man whose desk was next to ours in the office, and returning from the cemetery we say to ourselves: "I ought to put my affairs in shape so that my wife will be all right in case anything should happen to me." But we do not do it. "The right in the midst of things now," we say. "In another ten years I'll have something worth writing down in a will. Then I'll want to think the matter over carefully and arrange a fair division between my wife and the children and the relatives; but it's hardly worth while troubling about now." The man in the Scriptures is typical of most of us. "Things are going well with me," he said in effect. "I will pull down my barns and build greater." And that night his soul was required of him.

And the second reason why will making is not popular is because there is a general impression that a will is a luxury for the rich. It is expected that Mr. Milton, when he dies, will leave his estate carefully guarded by a long legal document; but the man who has nothing but a house and lot and $500 in the bank assumes that it isn't enough to bother the court about. So he dies, and his wife, who might, under a proper will, have entered into the enjoyment of his estate at once, with very little legal formality, finds herself compelled to give bonds, and go through an immense amount of red tape; and is fortunate if she is not involved in a family feud before the negotiations are completed. Even if she comes through safely, she has paid more than she can afford, in fees and charges—all of which would have been largely obviated by a proper will.

The rich man's estate will stand it. There will be enough left for his heirs even after the courts and lawyers are through. A will for him is more of a luxury; but it is a necessity to the man of small means; and the smaller the estate the more essential—Coffier's Weekly.

Mounting Often Defective. It sometimes happens that while the wheel itself may run perfectly true, improper mounting of the rim and tire give the impression of wobbling to the whole assembly.

LAW AS TO COLOR BLINDNESS.

Does Not Mean Loss of Sight, According to Ruling Made by Georgia Superior Court.

Color blindness does not mean total loss of sight in the meaning of the law, it was held recently by Judge John T. Pendleton in the motion division of Superior court at Atlanta, Ga.

Judge Pendleton's decision cleared a legal point raised only once before in the United States, so far as is shown by court records. This was in Nebraska, where both the lower court and the State Supreme court held that color blindness means total blindness.

The question was raised in a suit brought by George L. Fallin, who was a locomotive engineer for the Atlanta Joint Terminals, against the Locomotive Engineer Mutual Insurance and Accident association, a branch of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Engineer Fallin, it was set out, became color blind while engaged in his line of duty and was discharged from his position. He then applied to the engineers' association for his insurance—$3,500—for the loss of his eyesight, as stipulated in the policy. The association, however, declined to pay the amount on the ground that color blindness did not come within the terms of the policy concerning blindness. Fallin then brought suit in the courts through his counsel, City Attorney James L. Mayson.

EASY LUNCHEON DESSERT.

A dessert for the noonday meal should be a very light one such as a dish of fresh or canned fruit; a cookie or small cake with the hot drink.

There are, however, many desirable desserts which may be served in small amounts which are appropriate.
Jelly Fluff.—Take half a glass of jelly and the white of one egg; beat until stiff and the mixture will stand alone. Heap in sherbet cups and top with a spoonful of whipped cream or the white of egg beaten with sugar.

Baked Pears with Lemon Sauce.—Use large firm pears; core, but do not peel; place in a baking dish; add sugar, bits of butter and lemon juice with the grated rind. Baste with this during the baking, adding a little water if needed. Serve hot or cold with cream or a thin boiling custard.

Caramel Cornstarch Pudding.—Brown a half-cupful of sugar until it forms a sirup in a smooth frying pan, then add a pint of boiling milk; stir until the caramel is dissolved; add two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch to a little cold milk. Pour into sherbet cups; garnish with a spoonful of whipped cream topped with a piece of preserved ginger.

Rice Pudding.—Place a half-cupful of rice in a baking dish with two quarts of milk, a half-cupful of brown sugar and a half-cupful of raisins; flavor with cinnamon or nutmeg and bake three hours in a slow oven until the rice has absorbed all the milk.

Snowballs.—Spread cooked rice an inch thick over small squares of coarse muslin wet in cold water. In the center place a canned peach, pear or apricot. Tie carefully and steam ten minutes. Remove the cloth and serve with a sauce made from the fruit juice.

STATE CORN SHOW AT COLUMBUS JAN. 26-30

Ear With Uneven Number of Rows to Be Shown.

The Ohio State Corn and Grain show management is receiving many samples of Ohio's bumper-corn crop, as well as samples of wheat and other grain. The show will be held at the Ohio State University, Columbus, during Farmers' Week from Jan. 26 to 30. In anticipation of the largest show ever held by the organization, 20,000 square feet of floor space, more than ever provided before, has been secured in the big armory at the university.

Hundreds of dollars in prizes and additional trophies are offered. Among the new trophies is one by the Ohio Millers' State Association for the best of wheat showing the best baking and milling qualities. This is the first prize ever offered on this basis at a grain show.

The Ohio Grain Dealers' Association is also offering a new trophy for CLARENCE SLACK, Muskingum County, State Corn Champion, who produced 125.1 bushels of corn per acre this season and will be honored during the corn show at Ohio State University, Columbus.

the best corn exhibit from members of the Men's Ten-Acre Corn Contest, conducted by the Ohio State University.

One of the features of the show will be the exhibit of the sweepstakes ear of corn at the recent International Livestock Exposition grown by John H. Roads of Highland county.

Another ear of interest is one with an uneven number of rows, shown by A. B. Lewis of Greene county. The secret concerning this ear will be made known at the show.

State Corn Champion to Exhibit.

Premium lists for the corn and grain show may be had of Earl Chenault, and information about the seed testing course from the Department of Farm Crops, both at the Ohio State University, Columbus.

COLORS FOR 1920
 Variety and Artistic Beauty in Store for Next Year.

Pinks in All Shades, Blues, Greens, Yellows, Violets, Browns and Grays in Profusion.

Seldom even in pre-war days have colors promised more variety, artistic beauty and brilliancy than for the season of 1920. That fashion will have a galaxy of colors to choose from is proclaimed by the 1920 spring season color card just issued by the Textile Color Card association.

Pinks abound in profusion. They range from the most delicate tints—implied by their names—zephyr, dawn and nymph, down into lustrous rich tones called rosebud, arbutus and sweet briar. Three true venetian blues of the turquoise type follow, called Lagoon, Venice and Adriatic. Also three soft lavenders—morning glory, crocus and thistle.

Five scintillating greens of bluish cast range from a light water green named Naled through gradually deepening tones—Neptune, Jadedite and scarab, ending with a deep brilliant shade called nut. Among the old shades of pink are rose, coral and the well-known shade Rosemuda. Three new yellows of slightly greenish tint are cocktail, quite pale in tone, and sulphur and citrine of greater depth.

The violet tones are well represented in hyacinth, farglove and heart-cass, the last a deep rich purple. Flaming brilliancy accentuates the red family. Only three shades are included, but each distinctly individual. Firefly, the lightest, is an unusual shade of pronounced orange tone.

In the neutral and dark shades, browns and blues share equally in importance. One brown family portrays the burnished yellow tone suggestive of aboriginal tendencies which their names aptly imply, Aztec, wigwam and moccasin. Cattail is a dark brown, less yellow in tone, ranging a trifle lighter than seal brown, which again appears. Another range of six leads off with a light sand shade, called pebble, and runs on down through the light beige tones, moth and peccan, into the medium and darker castor shades, grouse, eagle and moose.

A range of exceptionally good blues of the Delit and tapestry persuasions appear. Starting with a rather faint blue, called aquamarine, and followed by twilight, of deeper, clearer tone, one finds shades in this group covering all the varied tones of blue, ureo, hydro, radio and orion, favored by fashion.

Five grays are shown, ranging from a delicate tone, called wood ash, to the medium soft shades, cinder and zinc, down to the darker shades, pelican and grobe.

SMART VEIL AND NECKWEAR

COMMUNISTS IN GERMANY PLOT

Seized Documents Disclose Plans Are Projected for Organized Murder.

NEW TACTICS ARE ADOPTED

Agitators Are Fattening on Proletarian Funds, Some of Which Emanate Directly From Bolshevik Russia—Plots Disclosed.

Berlin.—Communists of a dangerous type are afoot in Germany. Their plots for the winter are coming to light. These range from mild demonstrations to organized murder. And, while leaders are innocently declaring that the intentions of both independent socialists and communists are peaceful, the government is constantly rounding up documents proving that at least among certain groups of communists there exist plans of the bloodiest nature.

Government disclosures leave little room for doubt that some of the wilder spirits among the Spartacists propose to form a murderband that would do away with political opponents.

Dire Work Projected.
 For instance, Munich newspapers, Prussian Minister-President Hirsch and the military are authority for revelations in the closing days of September, showing that, among other things, the Spartacists planned the following:

(a) To do away with a large number of officers and soldiers in Munich, slaying them as they slept; (b) that a group of reds from Munich proposed to blacklist a number of prominent officials, draw lots, and then "put away" the condemned; (c) that, particularly in Munich, plans were afoot for creation of red "shock troops," to use against the regular military—particularly against monarchist officers; (d) that, in cases of demonstrations, women and children were to be put in the fore ranks to shield the cowards behind from the machine guns of the government troops; (e) that the communist government should ally itself with the anarchist-syndicalist groups.

All evidence at hand in the last few weeks has shown quite conclusively that the Spartacists and the independents were endeavoring to prove conclusively to Germany and to the world that they had moderated. Certainly, in general, they adopted a new course of tactics from that pursued last winter and spring, when rioting and bloodshed were the order of the day. Their new course appeared to consist in fomentation of strikes and other internal troubles with a view to embarrassing the government and hampering the national life that the existing regime would be overthrown. Now, however, the evidence of the government contained in documents seized from imprisoned Spartacists shows that whereas sabotage and hundred weapons were probably favored by the bulk of the communists, there was another group that believed in "direct action" of the worst sort.

The murder of Government Inspector Blau in August led the government to probe even more deeply than before into the secret workings of the communist group.

Many Arrests Made.
 This general investigation led to a number of arrests, including the haul at Halle, wherein about a dozen of very radical strikers were captured. It also proved to the government's satisfaction that Blau was killed by reds.

Munich continues to be a fruitful source of communist agitation. Some of the reddest of the reds have their headquarters there. From these headquarters issue secret orders which head-quarters now and then fall into government hands and prove that not only are these agitators willing to harm, and even hurt, the national industrial life, but have no really sincere desire to benefit the laboring man.

Instead, it has been shown, the agitators are fattening on proletarian funds, some of which emanate directly from bolshevik Russia and others of which are collected from the "brethren" in Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Part of the program of these agitators is to give their cause an air of respectability by recruiting "intellectuals."

The KITCHEN CABINET

"When one is in a pool of trouble, there is no possible good in splashing other people."—Huxley.

THRIFT IN LITTLE THINGS.

It is in the little things and small wastes that multiplied by hundreds make the great wastes in many homes.

Example speaks louder than words, so if the house mother wishes to train maids or children to be thrifty, she must first be thrifty herself. It takes but a moment's thought to turn off the light when leaving a room, even for a short time, and the turning off of the gas from the range before removing a dish, should become second habit.

How many women leave the soap floating in the dishwasher while washing the dishes instead of using the little economical soap shaker which holds even the tiny bits? The same habit is noticed when doing any cleaning about the home, soap floating in the scrubbing pail, instead of resting in a dish where it can be easily reached when needed.

China and all crockery is so costly now that we must of necessity take care of the household supply. When washing dishes they are often nicked or broken by striking the handles of the pan; turn the pan so that the handles are in front or a little at the side, out of range when handling the dishes.

Use triplicate dishes on one burner to save gas; the heat of the burner will cook three things in nearly the time used for one.

"A stitch in time" and "a penny earned" are proverbs so well known that it is trite to mention them, yet we need to constantly remind ourselves that a nickle is the interest on a dollar for a year, and it is not parsimonious to save, but something of which to be proud in those days of costly living.

If making ginger bread, add a cupful of cold coffee instead of the boiling water; save the coffee and improve the cake. Cold coffee may be used in spice cake, in place of milk; thickened with gelatine and served with cream it makes a dainty dessert.

A small bit of butter, too small to seem of use may be saved and when six small bits are added, one will have enough butter to season a dish of vegetables. "Let nothing be wasted," is a fine motto to have framed in our kitchens.
