Tine Farmers

Cuyahoga County

Agriculture is facing one of the most critical periods of its existence. The question of help, high cost of supplies, lack of control of his markets and uncertainty as to the prices to be received the coming season, make the business of farming more uncertain than ever before.

The farmer faces organization on every side. He must meet it with a stronger organization than he has ever had before.

You will have an opportunity in the next few days to join the greatest movement to organize agriculture that this State has ever known.

Your local Farm Bureau, federated with others into a State and National body is organizing on a business basis, to help you solve your marketing, legislative and other problems, which cannot be solved by you as an individual.

Our membership drive in Cuyahoga County started Tuesday, Feb. 17th. Highland County last week signed up 1250 members at $10.00 per year for three years, against 408 members that they had on the old $1.00 basis. Cuyahoga County can do better if every individual will do his share.
