SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM WILL PROVIDE FOR BROOKLYN; $1,000,006 FOR SPRING RD. SITE

The school building program accepted by the Cleveland Board of Education last Tuesday provides for the purchase of four new school sites in Brooklyn and the erection of a million dollar school on the Spring Road school site.

The location of the four new school sites follows:

State road at Henninger St., $30,000.

Pearl Rd., (Ira Ave. and W. 57th St.) $30,000.

Memphis Ave. and W. 59th St., $30,000.

Site adjacent to Pearl Rd. school for high school, $75,000.

The building proposed in the program for the Spring road school site purchased several years ago is to be a one-story building containing 30 rooms.

The program was prepared by Supt. Sautling and Director Hogen.

The program provides for the submission to the Cleveland voters of a bond issue of $25,000,000 to carry out the school site purchasing and school building program. It is the plan to place the bond issue before the people either at the election next August or next November.

Altogether the program provides for the purchase of 36 pieces of new property, the completion of eleven school institutions under construction, the erection of six temporary school structures and the erection of 22 new buildings.

The following board members were at the meeting and voted in favor of the building program: Mrs. Virginia D. Green, J. P. Harris, B. D. Quarrie and E. M. Williams.

Superintendent Spaulding told the board members:

"That the cost of the new buildings would reach $24,682,500, and that funds needed to complete buildings now under construction total $290,000. This, with the cost of land, estimated at $1,708,900, brings the building program to $26,681,400.

"That the resources of the board total $4,466,037.88.

"The deficit is $22,225,362.12.

BOARD RECORDS BROOKLYN'S PROMISE TO GIVE AID.

The communication which the executive board of the Brooklyn Parma Royalton Civic Association sent to the school officials several weeks ago, offering to support the school board in its proposed bond issue, has been made a matter of record by the board of education.

The letter which the B. P. R. sent to the school officials follows:

The Board of Education, Gentlemen:

This is to inform you that the executive board of the Brooklyn Parma Royalton Civic Association has passed a resolution to favor a bond issue of sufficient size to provide the city of Cleveland with adequate school facilities and to support such an issue when it is presented to the voters.

It is the spirit of the board of the B. P. R. to work for the success of the bond issue which the board of education plans to present to the people of Cleveland.

(Signed) THE B. P. R. SECRETARY.

Since the letter was written to the Board of Education the B. P. R. has consolidated with the Brooklyn Business Chamber into the Southwestern Civic and Business Men's Association, which organization will fulfill the promise made to the school board by the old B. P. R. Executive board.

Mrs. Brown was the mother of Mrs. Charles Boynton, of 3813 Spokane Ave. Other children surviving are: Mrs. J. F. Malling, William Cochran and B. E. Cochran, of Lakewood and Sam Cochran of Berea.

Before moving to Berea with his bride, Mr. Brown resided on Colburn Ave., in Brooklyn.

CATHOLICS BUY J. H. HUY PLACE

The Catholic Club of Brooklyn has purchased the J. H. Huy & Son property, located on Pearl road, just south of the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel. The club will use the property and the building on it for club purposes.

J. H. Huy & Son accepted as part payment a lot owned by the Brooklyn Catholic Club at Pearl road and Leopold Ave.

J. H. Huy & Son have been using the building on the property next to the church as a wine cellar and the deal with the Catholic Club was made May 26; the anniversary day on which the Huys closed their business as wine dealers.

J. H. Huy & Son will vacate the building within a month and the board of directors of the Catholic Club is planning to remodel the building and use it as a club house until a larger club house is built on the property. Remodeling will commence as soon as the Huys vacate the building.

On June 1 the club's board met and discussed its plans.

Various committees were appointed. Rev. S. J. Kremer, Henry Post, and Edward Hack were appointed to act in union with the architect as to the improvement of the building and the surroundings. Robert Friedl is to submit as soon as possible an exact survey of the entire plant. Harding, Patton, Gedeon, Dittenberger, Friedl were appointed for the entertainment committee. For the house committee the president appointed: L. J. Schreiner, Pat McNeerney, Frank Recker, while Robert Friedl, Albert Schmidt, Michael Patton, were appointed to take care of the young people's interest in the club.

Marius Rousseau, the architect, was notified to look over the plant and to submit his suggestions in the same meeting. The directors agreed with him that the beautiful front facing Pearl Road would never be marred by any building. The directors were also very well pleased with architect's suggestions as to what could be done with the present buildings on the property.

If the architect's plans are to be adopted, then the club will soon have a large pool room, a handsome hall for meetings and for dancing. Then, as soon as the clubs finds it possible, it can erect, adjacent to lack of the present buildings, the beautiful building proposed by the architect a few months ago.

Stock has been selling rapidly in the club. There are now 539 shares paid for up to date and 231 shares promised with down payment. New stock holders since the last list published are as follows: 2 shares—John Bubert, A. J. Vandershow, Theodore Mayer, Frank Haupt, Agnes Esser, Salem Farres, Raymond Ringenschuch, Ruthi Doubler, S. Jablonski, Richard Breiner, Pat Kenney, James McGuchin, Thomas Scholl, Catherine Cunningham; 1 share—Kathleen Wallace, Thomas Walsch, Frank Strauss, Geo. F. Doubler, Herman Doubler, Lucille Doubler, Joseph Meyer, P. Krava, Frances Schneider, Catherine Caffrey, Mary Caffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Chusat; 4 shares—A. Klein Michael Bosl Mr. and Mrs. Breiner Gertrude Kaufmann, Peter Riegelmeier; Young Men's Club, 3 shares.

Families and individuals with 20 and more shares—August Riestler, Nicholas Heim; Geo. DeChant, Klingmeyer family, Lang family.

LACK OF CEMENT HINDERS PAVING OF PEARL ROAD

Cement—or rather the lack of it—is holding up the paving on Pearl road, between Henninger road and the "Y."

County Engineer Stinchcomb said Thursday that prospects for getting cement soon were not very bright.

It is cement also that is delaying the laying of a street car line in Broadview road from Pearl to Schauf road, say street railway officials.

SEWER PLAN IS SUBMITTED BY ENGINEERS; POPULATION ESTIMATE IN 1960, 205,550

The report on the proposed sewer and water systems in the sanitary sewer districts established in the county south of South Brooklyn was submitted to the county commissioners Wednesday by the engineering firm of Macdowell and Garvin.

The report says that the proposed systems can be installed for $4,000,000, instead of the previous estimate of $12,000,000.

The system outlined would be adequate for an estimated rural population of 205,500 in 1960. The engineers estimate the daily water consumption would be 3,400,000 in 1935 and 26,500,000 in 1960.

The engineers' report that Cleveland's sewage system cannot be extended to drain the area of the proposed county sanitary district, approximately 27,000 acres, and that the rapid growth of population in this district will soon make the proposed sewer and water system an absolute necessity.

Only part of the original plan need be carried out to meet requirements of the next fifteen years, the engineers say. They contend it would be an economy to construct smaller mains at present, to be paralleled later by larger ones.

Although the general plan provides for supplying the district with water by means of water mains connected with proposed reservoirs, the engineers for the present to obtain water for the built-up portions of the district, including the villages of Brooklyn Heights and Independence, by extending existing city mains south on Schauf and Brecksville roads and constructing "booster stations" to assist pumping of the water.

DAWNING SCHOOL PRINCIPAL DIES

Brooklyn was saddened to learn of the death of Miss Anna Claus, Principal of Dawning School ever since it was built several years ago.

In her thirty-seven years of service, she was assistant principal at Kentucky, then Fremont, and left Fremont to become Principal at Pearl School, then Memphis and finally at Dawning.

She was greatly loved by scholars and teachers, and parents who held her in high esteem. She had been ill for some time.

Funeral services were held at the Henry Dress parlors 41st. St. and Robert Ave., on Thursday, June 3rd. Rev. J. H. String of the Eighth Reformed Church officiated.

FOWLER AND WORMAN OPEN NEW ALLOTMENT

Cleveland has finally awakened to the fact that the big future developments will have to be on the south side. Those who know and appreciate the many advantages offered in this section as compared with any other part of Greater Cleveland realize that it will be only a matter of short time before east and west riders will tire of spending half their time on street cars or fighting congested traffic to and from work.

Realizing these conditions and the fact that there is a big growing demand for a popular priced property, Fowler & Worman have purchased the William Avon & Frank Drexler farms fronting on Valley Road and divided it into lots with wide winding streets, giving each home an excellent frontage with lots enough for gardens.

The Avon and Gregor properties have been an excellent garden spot for years and should prove a very desirable location for those who appreciate plenty of space with good soil, winding streets, close to Broadview and Pearl Roads.

CHURCH TO HOLD 40-HOUR SERVICE

Forty hours' devotion will commence in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church Saturday morning with solemn high mass at 8 o'clock and will end Sunday evening with special services at 7:45 o'clock. A procession will be part of the closing service. Rev. Cyril Mohr, missionary, will preach three sermons during the Forty-hour service.

D. F. DAVIDSON OPENS NEW TIRE STORE

D. F. Davidson has reopened a tire and automobile accessory store at 4261 West 35th, in the property formerly occupied by the G. H. Arndt plumbing office.

Mr. Davidson last summer operated a similar business at Pearl and Krather roads until the building was razed for the erection of a new post-office.

Mr. Davidson has leased his new quarters from the realty firm of Meyers and Lange. Mr. Arndt, who occupied the place until June 1 has moved his office into his general repair shop on Pearl road, next to the United Presbyterian church.

The Davidson tire shop will make a specialty of tire repairing.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT PEARL ROAD M. E. CHURCH

Next Sunday at Pearl road M. E. church there will be preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The subject of the morning sermon will be, "A Man's Value." It is a theme of great interest. How much are you worth to the world? Are we reaching the limit of our possibilities in service for mankind? In the evening the subject will be, "The Hearer's Duty." We hear a good deal about preaching from the preacher's standpoint, but very little of the duty of the hearer. In the gospel both preacher and hearer have a solemn duty. The hearer's part will be discussed at this service.

BROOKLYN GIRL SAVES $120 ON GRADUATION GOWN.

Mildred Hatch, of 2919 Searsdale Ave., who will be graduated from West Tech this year, made her own graduation gown. She says "The dress cost me $40. It would cost $160 to buy it ready made."

Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Kellum, of 4232 West 36th St., entertained the former's brother, Mr. E. F. Kellum, and his wife, of Detroit, Memorial Day.

REBEKAHS WILL HOLD SERVICES SUNDAY

The annual memorial services of the Cuyahoga County Rebekah association will be held in Glenn Hall, next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The affair will be open to the public.

JAMES WRIGHT WITH C. A. WAGNER CO.

James Wright, formerly with the Remburg-Busch Co. has accepted a position with the C. A. Wagner hardware store, on Broadview road.

ALL LIVING THINGS LINKED

Scientists aver there is even a bond of sympathy between humanity and a stone.

If, as scientists tell us, there is a connecting link between human beings and animals, animals and vegetables, and vegetables and minerals, there is a bond of sympathy between you and a stone. Everything becomes merely a matter of degree, with human beings—in their own estimation—at the top.

A great scientist, Sir Jagadis Chandra Bose, has just given some astonishing facts regarding vegetables, in which he shows that they have many of our characteristics, says London Answers.

The effects of stimulants on vegetables are similar to the effects on animals. Vegetables can also be put under anesthetics, they can be poisoned and they are subject to the death spasm. The latter point has a special interest for vegetarians. Perhaps the most astonishing fact is that vegetable plants possess greater sensibilities than animals, enabling them to record wireless signals.

When does a vegetable end and an animal begin? Near the border line is the common sponge.

KOLCAN-GEDEON.

Magdalene Gedeon, of Cypress ave. and George Kolcan of Leopold ave., were married yesterday in Our Lady of Good Counsel church.

STUDY OF GREEK GIVEN UP

Fewer Students in American or English Colleges Seem to Care for Ancient Language.

Every year the expression, "It is all Greek to me," has a sharper point to it. The reason is that each year fewer boys and girls study Greek, remarks "Girard" in the Philadelphia Press.

I see by the list of students in a typical American college that only one boy in 15 now studies Greek. In the same college 30 years ago over half the students read Greek.

A drop from 50 to less than 7 per cent in a generation is going fast, and shows that Greek will soon be not only a dead, but a buried language in the United States.

And from Oxford, in England, comes a wall that the university is fast losing ground.

The year before the war, in 1913, 253 students entered Oxford, but 30 years earlier 784, matriculated. And of those who came in 1913, 180 were Rhodes scholars.

From an Oxford man I learn that Greek is the trouble. Cambridge university abolished Greek, but Oxford did not, although in nearly all the five preparatory schools in England Greek is no longer taught.

So it seems that schools do not prepare boys for Oxford and Oxford stands still.

FRIDAY, JUNE 4, 1920.

Memorial Day.

All can be thankful for the beautiful Decoration Day, Monday. The graves of the soldiers in this community, as was true in all our city and country, were decorated and remembered. It is with sadness, but with pride, that we view these old soldiers of the Civil War as they are thinning out so rapidly—one hundred a day being the average. Yet we are pleased to note there are more than two hundred and fifty thousand veterans of the Civil War who yet survive. Perhaps none of them is under seventy-five years of age. There are still several living in our community, and it behooves us to show them in every way, on every occasion, that we still remember them, and love them for the sacrifices they made for us.

Added interest to these solemn occasions, and ever increasing interest to us all will be because of the soldiers of the World War, whose memories we cherish, and the presence of these veterans among us will ever stimulate us to higher duty in all that makes our country great.

We hail the heroes of the past, only a few who are still with us to bless us by their presence, and we hail the heroes of the recent war, and of the Spanish American war, and trust all the highest blessings shall be ever theirs.—Rev. J. S. Eaton.

H. C. L. Break—Not Yet

Is the bottom falling out of prices? Is the cost of living on the decline?

Brooklyn merchants say, "not yet." It is true that a wave of price discounts on clothing has been sweeping the country but it is pointed out that this is only temporary.

The present temporary break started when John Wanamaker startled New York for a few hours when he announced he was reducing everything 20 per cent.

This stroke of John Wanamaker was an advertising master piece. The story goes that John needed money and money was tight. Banks wouldn't loan any. So John was forced to liquidate some of his merchandise.

stunt and beat the other retailers to it. It intimated that stant and beat the other retailers to it. They intimated that Wanamaker was taking the profiteering out of retailing and reduced prices to raise money which John tried to raise elsewhere.

Wanamaker's stunt got response here and there from other merchants, who thinking the time had come, followed suit and held discount sales. This along with the sales usually held at this season of the year caused the interpretation by many that the death knell had been rung for old H. C. L.

Brooklyn merchants, like merchants everywhere else, do truly believe that a price decline will come to pass, but they declare it is not so near at hand as many people think. Most merchants say that the wholesale markets are stationary. On many things wholesalers are quoting a higher price for fall delivery. But no lower prices are being quoted.

The only commodity that has taken a slump in price is silk. And manufacturers of silk products declare that the present slump will not decrease, for a while at least, the price of silk wearing apparel. They say that it will take five months before the raw silk can be made into wearing apparel and placed on the market. The increase in wages and other costs of production, manufacturers argue, will overbalance the decline in the price of raw silks.

One thing that has kept prices soaring is cornering. There is more cornering of necessities than there ever has been before. Sugar for instance, is hard to buy, but it isn't scarce. There's plenty of sugar to go around but somebody has the corner on it. Dozens of other commodities are in the same boat.

This is by no means a calamity howl. The country is not going to the bow wows. We are getting to better conditions slowly. We cannot change from our present status to one of satisfactory living costs over night. It takes time to do this.

However, if the story of those who claim to know, can be relied on, those who think the price break is here now are doomed to disappointment.

ROAD SIGNS EASY TO FOLLOW
 Comprehensive System Soon to Be Put in Effect on the Highways of France.

A new system of road marking, born of the war, is to be put into effect in France as soon as may be practical. It provides for road signs which those who ride in fast automobiles may read en passant. On both sides of the fighting lines these great staring signs, painted on wall or on large bulletin boards, were put at all road junctions. They were not esthetic, but we can count on the French to improve that. The new plan provides for boards at least a yard in length on which the name of the place where it is posted shall be painted full size—white on a blue ground, with only slightly smaller indications—names and distances in kilometers—of the next place in either direction. The kilometer stones by the roadside are to have distinctive colors marking the main road and one has only to follow the red or the blue or the green to keep to the road. One suspects this is a relic of the system first employed in America by painting the telegraph poles along main roads distinctive colors.

Chinese Adopt United States Idea. There are about 150 Chinese women and girls in New York city, a few of them students, but most of them wives, mothers and daughters of merchants and other business men. These women will some day carry back to China western ideas and methods, and especially the practices of American women. They are interesting themselves in everything that American women do. "We are hoping to learn of the best elements in American womanhood," says one of their leaders, "and at the same time to retain our ideas of Chinese civilization." This is a Chinese branch of the Y. W. C. A. that will train women in citizenship, American customs, organized recreation, physical exercise and all the usual lines of activity.

A Good Recommendation

The business man has confidence in the boy or other employee with a bank account. He knows that any one who can save for himself can save for him, and that the money saved stands for character. It does not mean how much you have saved, but the fact that you have shown a determination to do a certain thing; that a savings bank book is in itself a good recommendation. "It'll be a great accommodation one said. When Black turned around from filling a measure he found himself covered by two revolvers.

The bandits rifled the unlocked safe of $450. A fourth man waiting in an automobile, all fled after cutting telephone wires in the station.

AIR CRAFT CRASHES TO EARTH AS MASCOT DIES

The victims of the aeroplane crash which happened on the Logan Aviation field, Lindale road, west of Brooklyn last Sunday are recovering. They are Aviator H. J. Jacoby and his passenger, J. W. Perkins, secretary of Floyd J. Logan, of the Logan Aviation Co.

This is the first accident on the field which opened May 10. Many Brooklyn people saw the mishap.

As the aeroplane carrying Perkins and Jacoby was on its way crashing to the earth the rabbit mascot of the aviation field was being crushed to death between the jaws of a dog which broke away from its owner, who came to witness the fight.

Poplar Grove and Evergreen Schools of Parma Township held their annual school picnic at Brookside Park last Friday. All reported a good time.

SHALL WE BLAME THE SCHOOLS

Sunday morning at Eighth Reformed Church, Rev. J. H. String will raise some pertinent questions on the subject, "Shall We Blame the Schools?"

In the evening the subject will be "A Lakeside Scene in the Days of the Master."

The Christian Endeavor Society will conduct service in the afternoon at the Tuberculosis Building of the City Hospital.

DAWNING SCHOOL DIES VISIT IN MICHIGAN.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bernard, of 2823 Claybourne Ave., spent Decoration Day at Hillsdale and Reading, Mich. Reading is Mrs. Bernard's former home town.

His Comment

"As long as there are big footed, braying hobbledoys, neither boys nor men, and as long as the fool killer neglects his duty," commented old Festus Pester, as he gazed upon a mess of youthful and blawhawing joy riders, "just that long there will be that kind of toady business cut up. I was once exactly that sort of a lout myself; substitute a buggy and a clumsy horse for that motor car and look back a few dozen years into the dim past and you have me, conceit, blather, total disregard for the rights and privileges of others, and all. Boys always were and always will be the same at that age. And just as the older persons of my day fervently hoped I would break my worthless neck by my own foolishness, I now hope those yaw-hawing idlers will break theirs. But they won't; I didn't mine."—Kansas City Star.
