Whose To Blame?

More lights in Brookside Park.
 This is the demand that is arising from the people in all parts of the community around Brookside Park and unless the park board voluntarily acts to decently light the park the fathers and mothers in this community may force them to action.
 More lights in the park is not a new cry arising from people of this entire community. The need for lights has been felt for a couple of years and now the demand has begun to gain momentum and threatens to force itself into recognition.
 Many Brooklyn people declare that Brookside has been neglected by the park authorities and that all the attention has been going to Edgewater park as far as West Side parks are concerned. Some declare that park officials evidently have forgotten there is a Brookside Park.
 Not only are lights lacking in the park, but other accommodations, usually found in public parks, are conspicuously absent. This was illustrated on the evening of June 21 when a group of girls from the Brooklyn Community Y. W. C. A. had planned to hold a "stunt night" in the pavilion in the park. Mrs. M. L. String, the Y. W. C. A. secretary had gone to Mr. Day, in charge of the recreational department at the City hall and was granted a permit to use the pavilion, from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m.
 When Mrs. String and the Y. W. C. A. girls arrived at the pavilion they found it locked. They at once endeavored to find some official who would open it. After much effort Mr. Conroy, superintendent of the park, was reached at his home by telephone.
 "Mr. Conroy," states Mrs. String, "in anything but a courteous manner, informed me that there were no lights in the pavilion, that there hadn't been any lights there for two years and that by this time the sockets likely were in such shape to make it impossible to light the place."
 So the stunt night had to be abandoned.

The whole idea is this—do the city park officials know or do they not know just what conditions exist in Brookside park. Certainly they do not or no permit would have been given to use a building that was not in condition to be occupied. It is evident that someone needs a brisk stirring up and who knows but perhaps that someone is the park superintendent.
 The pavilion affords about the only place in the park where shelter may be had during rains. And according to reports the pavilion has not been opened so far this season. The pavilion is an oft visited spot, thickly surrounded by darkness at night, so it would seem that park officials would hesitate to admit that "it has not been lighted for two years."
 Furthermore, the lake, which is near the park, is surrounded by but half enough lights to properly illuminate the surroundings at night. This too, should be given immediate attention.
 Well, quickly, bet dollars to doughnuts that if anyone were to take the park policeman to one side he would unhesitatingly tell us, if he felt sure it would go no farther, some things we'd blush to pass on—all happening because lack of lights make it impossible to properly police the park.
 The park officials may sing their song, made popular by oft quoting, "Cleveland's broke," but despite this alibi the city can put more lights in the park if it really wants to.

PEARL M. E. S. LOSE TO NEOPHYTES.

The Neophytes' indoor baseball team, won the much disputed game between them and the Pearl M. E. team, in spite of the fact that their lineup was greatly weakened. The championship lay on this game which went one extra inning, the Neophytes winning 7-6. Chilik, who substituted for Wendt, hurled a fine game. Wendt and Walz were unable to play, the former having a sprained ankle and the latter a dislocated elbow.
 During the season the lineup for the Neophytes was:
 Ray Siegmeyer, 1f; Louis Schlegel, cf; Ed. Meyer, rf; Roy Behlke, s. c.; John Wible, 3rd b; Louis Chilik, s. c.; Harold Behlke, 2nd b; Herb Walz, Mgr.; 1st b. Wilmer Wendt, p; Fred Schlock (capt.), c; Roy Meyer, 3b.

ELDERBERRY WITH A KICK.
 YORKVILLE, O.—The stuff with authority is being made here by Ohioans who have been dry for weeks. They take elderberry blossoms and from them concoct a wine with a kick that would make Dempsey's seem like that of a fly in comparison. While one of Jack's made Willard groggy for "quite some time," a man who drank a glass of his first attempt with the elderberry blossom booze had a jag for half a day.

 "If you want to be miserable, you must think about yourself, about what you want, what you like, what you respect, what you ought to pay you, and then to you nothing will be pure. You will spoil everything you touch. You will make sin and misery out of everything which God sends you. You will be as wretched as you choose."
